

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

The Way Physicians Now Treat Catarrh.

Physicians who formerly depended upon inhalers, sprays and local washes or ointments now use Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because as one of the most prominent states these tablets contain in pleasant, convenient form all of the really efficient and reliable catarrh remedies, such as red gum, blood root and Hydrastin.

They contain no cocaine or opiate (so common in liquid catarrh medicines) and are given to children with entire safety and benefit.

Dr. J. J. Reiter says: I suffered from Catarrh in my head and throat every winter and it would hang on clear into summer, with stoppage of the nose and irritation in the throat affecting my voice so that I was continually clearing my throat before I could speak plainly. It finally extended to the stomach causing catarrh of the stomach.

I bought a fifty cent box of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at my druggist's and carried them in my pocket and used them regularly several times a day and the way in which they cleared my head and throat and improved my hearing and general health I consider little short of remarkable. I had no catarrh last winter and spring and know I am entirely free from any catarrh trouble whatever.

Mrs. Jerome Ellison of Wheeling writes: I suffered from catarrh nearly my whole life and last winter my two children also suffered from catarrh of the nose and throat so much they were out of school a large part of the winter. My brother who was cured of catarrh deafness by using Stuart's Catarrh Tablets urged me so much to try them that I sent to the drug store and bought a package and I am truly thankful for what they have done for me and my children. I always keep a box of the tablets in the house and at the first appearance of a cold or sore throat one or two of the catarrh tablets nip it in the bud and Catarrh is no longer a household affliction with us.

The first challenge in the ladies' basketball game from the girls of the Preparatory school. They have courage, at any rate. Their challenge was to the upper grades of the academy. If they did not succeed in making their challenge good, it was not for fear of the game. The game was played Saturday evening just prior to the contest with the L. D. S., and resulted in a victory for the upper school girls, score 13 to 4.

Last Monday night a representative from each class organization met with the executive committee of the Athletic association and arranged for a series of class basketball meets, 36 in all. Each class is to have a team and meet with some other class, the result being announced at meetings of the student body from time to time. This will keep the students interested in the game and give exercise and class enthusiasm to the remaining part of the school year. Meanwhile the outdoor sports will not be neglected, as soon as the campus shall have dried sufficiently for the purpose.

The conference of the domestic organization of the Brigham Young academy was held last Sunday, the morning and evening sessions in college hall and the afternoon session, at the request of the Presidency of the stake, in the stake tabernacle. All the meetings were crowded with students and visitors. Reports from the various stake organizations and student aids took up part of the time. The rest was occupied by Presidents Jon. P. Smith and A. H. Lund Elder J. Golden Kimball and other prominent visitors. The aim in this organization is to duplicate as far as possible the methods of Church government in stakes and wards.

Elder Lester Mangum of St. Anthony, Mo., who was called from his classes in the academy three years ago to take a mission to Palestine, stopped over last Saturday on his return home, and spoke to the students during domestic conference. Elder Mangum, true to the first word he received, namely, "Grow a beard, young man, if you would have the Orientals respect you," came home with this patriarchal appendage in fine condition. His friends hardly knew him, until they caught his genial smile and his warm grasp of his hand. Then they realized that Lester was with them again. His beard, having served well the purpose of his mission, will, he assumes us, be cast aside within a week or two.

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE

Logan, Utah, March 12.—The final basketball game of the league will be played in the gymnasium next Saturday, March 14. The contesting teams will be the home college team and the L. D. S. U. of Salt Lake.

A religious class convention was held in the college last Sunday. President Lufford received a communication from Washington, D. C., notifying him that he had been elected a member of the American association for the advancement of science. This association number of the leading scientific educators of America.

Prof. Hall lectured in the Second Ward last Sunday, March 8, and President Lufford attended Sunday school conference in Benson in the morning and addressed the Saints in Newton on Sunday afternoon.

A matinee was given in the gymnasium last Saturday afternoon, the usual school time was manifest.

According to arrangements recently made the training school will be re-located in the Preston block in the near future. The new building now occupied by the business department. What used to be the assembly room will be fitted for bookkeeping and banking. The commercial department will be placed under the direction of specialists, and Prof. Bullen will be in charge of bookkeeping and banking. Prof. Vernon in charge of English and Prof. in charge of chemistry and physics, and Prof. in charge of mathematics.

The college has been asked to join the other Church schools in making an exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase exposition to be held in St. Louis in 1904.

Students were favored in chapel on Wednesday morning by a vocal selection from A. L. Farrell.

The Philomathean Literary society held its Friday night, the principal number of the program is an address by Hon. Moses Thatcher.

Prof. M. Tanner visited Sunday school Sunday morning and as usual had something good to tell the students.

The class in bacteriology is now working with pathogenic organisms of the most dangerous and destructive type.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE,

Logan.—Members of the station staff conducted a farmer's institute at Logan last Monday. The attendance was large and the meeting a very profitable one. Prof. Merrill delivered an address on the work of the station, Prof. Hall on insects; and Prof. Clark on hog raising.

Dr. Whitson was in Salt Lake City on Tuesday to confer with Prof. Means of the U. S. bureau of soils regarding the problem of the alkali farm. The work of the college in connection with the U. S. department of agriculture, is experimenting.

The station staff is discussing plans for the five dry farm sub-experiment stations to be established in various counties of the state under a recent act of the Utah Legislature.

Mr. Davis, a student of last year, now studying music at the capital, visited the college on Tuesday.

Many students have been absent from the classes during the week on account of bad colds and grip.

The class in geology with Prof. Peterson have commenced the work in historical geology.

While the winter course in shop work is going on, many students entered the regular class in carpentry entered in September are constructing some fine

Walker and William Reed.

Owing to the death of his mother, Mr. Decker was unable to lecture Saturday evening, so Instructor Lewis took his place. His subject was, "A Boquet of Jestlers" and it was both interesting and laughable.

At students' chapel last Friday Minnie Berry read a paper on "Friendship," Tillie Gardner gave a piano solo, and Henry Jones talked on "Conduct of Students When Out of School."

Mr. Driggs having decided that something must be done to improve the vocabularies of the students, has established a "bridge box" for his English classes. The students are requested to put all expressions they hear containing incorrectly used words, slang, or vulgarisms, and good thoughts into the box and they are read and discussed in the English classes.

It Saved His Leg.

P. A. Danforth of LaGrange, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For Ulcers, Wounds, Piles, it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.
